5th International Barcelona Conference on Higher Education

Higher Education's Commitment to Sustainability: from Understanding to Action

Universitat Politècnica
de Catalunya, Barcelona
23 – 26 November 2010

Call for Good Practices – Thematic lines

The Call looks for innovative experiences that can serve as examples or inspiration to other higher education actors, helping them to start similar experiences in the field described. GUNI looks for examples of good practices in the following areas:

1. Curricula Innovation and Learning Processes
2. Research
3. Social and Community Engagement
4. Institutional Management and Operations

The deadline to submit a good practice is 31 May 2010.

The 5th International Barcelona Conference on Higher Education is designed to deepen the conceptual definition of the lines of change in higher education to respond to the challenges of sustainability, as well as to identify ways for action. Both facilitate the transition between existing and new educational scenarios consistent with the vision of the sustainability paradigm to move from understanding to action.

The Call for Good Practices aims to make connections between the key ideas being examined in the Conference, with good practices taking place 'on the ground'. The selected good practices will be presented in the parallel sessions at the Conference and will be published in the next Report Higher Education in the World 4.

There will also be an on-line forum in order to debate and prepare the material that will be worked on in the Conference. The aim is to extend the scope of the GUNI Conference by giving voice to individuals and institutions from around the world.

For detailed information and registration, please consult the conference website.
